2. You should now see a page similar to this. If not, make sure you did not select a group or friend from the search box while searching.

The screenshot shows a Mozilla Firefox browser window displaying the Facebook search results for the term "libertarian". The browser's address bar shows the URL: <http://www.facebook.com/home.php#/s.php?ref=search&init=q&q=libertarian&sid=baaacff1428db06a0d61d7f>. The Facebook navigation bar includes "Home", "Profile", "Friends", "Inbox 34", "Settings", and "Logout".

The search results are displayed under the "All Results" tab, with filters for "People", "Pages", "Groups", "Events", "Applications", and "Web". The "Show results from" dropdown is set to "All Networks". The results show "Displaying 1 - 10 out of over 500 results for: libertarian".

The first three results are for groups named "Libertarian", each featuring a logo with the Statue of Liberty and the text "LIBERTARIAN PARTY".

Group Name	Size	Type	New	Matches	Action
Libertarian	191 members	Student Groups - Political Groups	9 More Members, 2 Wall Posts		Join Group
Libertarian	176 members	Common Interest - Politics	2 More Members, 2 Wall Posts	Name and Description	Join Group
Libertarian	36 members	Common Interest - Politics	2 More Members	Name and Description	Join Group

On the right side of the page, there is an advertisement titled "Get Ahead with a UGA MBA" with a photo of three students and the text: "CLICK to learn how you can get a full-time University of Georgia Terry College of Business MBA at the Athens, Georgia campus."

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the Start button, the Facebook browser window, and a Paint window titled "untitled - Paint". The system tray on the right shows the time as 11:30 AM.

3. Find where it says 'Show results from: All Networks,' and select the network from which you are looking to search.

The screenshot shows a Mozilla Firefox browser window with the Facebook search page. The address bar shows the URL: <http://www.facebook.com/home.php#/s.php?ref=search&init=q&q=libertarian&sid=8ceb14f88b339a1d48a8e7>. The search term is "libertarian".

The search results are displayed under the "All Results" tab. A dropdown menu is open, showing "Show results from" with the following options: "All Networks", "My Networks", "South Carolina", "Washington, DC", and "Other Network...". The "All Networks" option is selected.

The search results show three groups:

- Libertarian (Group): 191 members, Student Groups - Political Groups, 9 More Members, 2 Wall Posts. Join Group
- Libertarian (Group): 176 members, Common Interest - Politics, 2 More Members, 2 Wall Posts, Name and Description. Join Group
- Libertarian (Group): 36 members, Common Interest - Politics, 2 More Members, Name and Description. Join Group

The right sidebar contains an advertisement for "China Summer Law Program" and a "The Simpsons Ride" logo.

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the Start menu, the Facebook browser window, and the Paint application. The search bar in the taskbar shows "veg" and the results are "Done". The system clock shows 11:32 AM.

4. In this example, I selected 'Washington, DC.' As such, over 500 results have been returned, including groups that are clouding our results.

Group/Profile	Network	Size	Type	Matches	Action
Libertarians for a Complete Non-Libertarian	Washington, DC	7 members	Organizations - Political Organizations	Name and Description	Join Group
Hot Libertarian Women of D.C. Calendar	Washington, DC	6 members	Entertainment & Arts - Fine Arts	Name and Description New: 1 More Member	Join Group
Tim Stanton	South Carolina '08 Washington, DC	91 mutual friends	Political Views	Name and Description	Send a Message View Friends

The browser window shows the URL: <http://www.facebook.com/s.php?q=libertarian&n=67108869&k=40000000010&sf=nf&init=q&sid=8ceb14f88t>. The search filters are set to 'Washington, DC' and 'Show More Filters'. The browser's address bar shows the search term 'libertarian' and the search button.

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the Start button, the Facebook application, and several open windows: 'untitled - Paint' and 'screen'. The system clock shows 11:34 AM.

5. Refine your search by clicking on 'People' next to 'All Results.'

The screenshot shows a Mozilla Firefox browser window displaying a Facebook search for 'libertarian' in Washington, DC. The browser's address bar shows the URL: <http://www.facebook.com/s.php?q=libertarian&n=67108869&k=400000000010&sf=nf&init=q&sid=8ceb14f88t>. The Facebook navigation bar includes 'Home', 'Profile', 'Friends', 'Inbox 34', 'Settings', and 'Logout'. A search bar at the top right contains the text 'libertarian'. Below the search bar, the results are filtered to 'People' in 'Washington, DC'. The page displays '1 - 10 out of over 500 people results at Washington, DC for: libertarian'. Three profile cards are visible:

- Tim Stanton: South Carolina '08, Washington, DC. Matches: Political Views. 91 mutual friends. Actions: Send a Message, View Friends.

On the right side, there is an advertisement for 'Fan of Juno?' with a photo of a group of people and text: 'If you liked Juno, then you'll love 'Hamilton'. It scores a solid 7.1 on IMDB and you can see it for free here. Click here to view.' Below the ad is a large red banner with the text 'IF YOU DARE.' in white.

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the Start button, several open applications (Facebook, Paint, screen), and the system tray with the time 11:34 AM. The browser's search bar at the bottom contains the text 'veg' and navigation buttons for 'Next', 'Previous', 'Highlight all', 'Match case', and 'Phrase not found'.

6. To further refine your results, try typing in a city or location in next to 'libertarian' in the search bar above your results. For example:

The screenshot shows a Mozilla Firefox browser window displaying a Facebook search for "libertarian silver spring" in Washington, DC. The browser's address bar shows the URL: <http://www.facebook.com/s.php?sid=8ceb14f88b339a1d48a8e7614f8f1eff&init=q&sf=r&k=100000020&n=671>. The Facebook navigation bar includes "Home", "Profile", "Friends", "Inbox 34", "Settings", and "Logout".

The search results are displayed under the "People" tab. The search bar contains "libertarian silver spring" and "Search". Below the search bar, it says "Profile Search | Friend Finder".

The results are filtered by location: "Washington, DC". It displays "1 - 10 out of 90 people results at Washington, DC for: libertarian silver spring".
